What is a gas meter?

A gas meter is a device installed by utility companies that regulates the amount gas flowing to your gas appliances.

When or why would I need a meter upgrade?

Anything that significantly increases the total gas your household appliances need may require you to get your gas meter upgraded. You may require a meter upgrade if you are building, remodeling, or renovating your property or if you are installing any of the following appliances:

- Gas generator
- Outdoor grill or kitchen
- Tankless water heater
- Heated pool or spa
- Fireplace/outdoor pit
- Other gas appliances

Outdoor kitchen

As a reminder, a gas meter upgrade includes changing the meter in its existing location. This does not include installing a new service line for a new meter. Appliances should be in place and ready to connect before submitting a meter upgrade request.

I am a CNP customer and my contractor suggested a meter upgrade. What should I do?
